The objective of the Institute is to promote the training and development of management teachers and researchers in Europe. EIASM carries out these tasks by designing advanced research programs in the Management Sciences to be conducted by outstanding researchers; supporting and encouraging the organization of doctoral programs in Management in collaboration with European Universities and Business Schools (EDEN : E.I.A.S.M.'s Doctoral Education Network); setting up international workshop-type activities so as to stimulate fruitful interactions between management scholars active on the research scene.

In view of its past achievements, EIASM can be seen as the core of the network of European organizations involved in the development and diffusion of Management knowledge and methods.
